

This plots highlights most informative feature values (in average) that contribute to positive usability of a certain material for each of the three categories.